

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DATE: April 27, 2009

FOR MORE INFO: Michelle Mason/Barb Pierce, Hughes, 314.571.6300, mmason@hughes-stl.com or Twitter @michelleimason
Terry Andrew, Dot Foods Inc., 208.678.6063

NEWS RELEASE

Dot Foods Celebrates Earth Day

Employees, family members gather to clean up area surrounding Burley distribution center

BURLEY, Idaho – Dot Foods Inc. associates, family and friends participated in the first annual Burley Earth Day cleanup on Wednesday, April 22.

Dot associates devoted time on Wednesday, April 22, to clean up the area surrounding Dot's Burley facility, which employs nearly 100 people. "We want to do our part in making Burley a clean place to live and work, and cleaning up our little corner of the world is the place to start," said Terry Andrew, HR manager. After the cleanup was completed, Dot hosted a cookout to celebrate everyone's hard work.

The Burley distribution center, which opened last September, is excited to participate in its first annual Earth Day cleanup program, and the number of participants is expected to grow next year. More than 50 people participated this year.

"We hope to continue to better Burley and to inspire others to do so as well," said Andrew. "We are dedicated to helping the community in any way we can."

Dot Foods Inc. carries 83,000 products from 500 food industry manufacturers and is the largest food redistributor in the United States. Dot Foods and Dot Transportation sell and deliver foodservice, convenience, retail, vending, equipment and supplies to leading distributors in all 50 states. Dot Foods operates nine distribution centers in: Modesto, Calif.; Vidalia, Ga.; Burley, Idaho; Mt. Sterling, Ill.; Joliet, Ill.; Cambridge City, Ind.; Williamsport, Md.; Liverpool, N.Y.; and Ardmore, Okla. For information, visit www.dotfoods.com.

From left to right: Travis Jones, order selector, Raul Ruiz, warehouse lead, and Brian Housewright, warehouse superintendent, prepare for the cleanup.